Comment. The telephone directory covers all the major places of the Voivodeships (administration district) of Stettin and Koslin. It indicates the organizational set-up of the militia and security police headquarters in the individual towns. For Stettin, the military administrative agencies are also listed, but not the troop units stationed in the city. It is believed that those telephone numbers, the assignment of which was not stated, belong to KBW, WOP or Polish Army units. From the telephone directory, it appears that major army units and headquarters are stationed in only Stettin and Stolp. However, it is believed that Polish Army units are also located in other towns. The same applies to units of the Soviet Armed Forces, which are still believed to be stationed in this area.
